

Valia Glytsis

CEO & Founder

PARADOX of leadership

Valia Glytsis is proud to call leadership development her ministry. She is the CEO and Founder of The Paradox of Leadership, a boutique learning and development firm serving senior executives and their leadership teams to deepen trust, cultivate communication, and build alignment. Through her live and virtual workshops, keynotes, and select team and Executive coaching, Valia helps leaders develop the skills they need to drive sustainable results, build exceptional teams and create people-centric cultures.

As a highly sought-after thought leader in the industry, Valia is known for her inspirational and transformative approach to leadership development – leading from the inside-out. She is fascinated by the space where business and spirituality meet and has made it her mission to invite other progressive leaders into this exploration.

Her authorship debut, Unraveling Ambition, is a testament to her passion for helping clients rewrite their stories and unlock more meaning and purpose in how they live and lead.
